Character Education Of

Character education is an umbrella term loosely used to describe the teaching of children and adults in a manner that will help them develop variously as moral, civic, good, mannered, behaved, non-bullying, healthy, critical, successful, traditional, compliant or socially acceptable beings. Concepts that now and in the past have fallen under this term include social and emotional learning, moral reasoning and cognitive development, life skills education, health education, violence ...

Character education - Wikipedia

Simply put, character education (CE) is everything you do that influences the character of the kids you teach. But to put it in a more focused light, we like Dr. Thomas Lickona's definition, that "character education is the deliberate effort to help people understand, care about, and act upon core ethical values."

Character education provides the opportunity for students to build the self-control needed to face life's adversities. Learning things like honesty, accountability and compassion builds stronger citizens, but that doesn't happen on accident. We have launched high school chapters, provide personal development activities, and conduct assembly's to inspire students to be a person of their word. We invest in character education programming because we know some students are one promise away ...
