Extending Themselves User Initiated Transformations

The occupants of such housing frequently make unauthorised but quite considerable changes and extensions (transformations) to their dwellings. This book examines user-initiated transformations to government-built housing in Bangladesh, Egypt, Ghana and Zimbabwe, surveyed in a research programme sponsored by the UK Department for International Development. The 1600 dwellings surveyed show how relatively low-income households are capable of supplying new rooms and services both to improve ...

Extending Themselves: User-Initiated Transformations of ...

He argues that user-initiated extensions are a form of how families act as suppliers of housing for the poor, and governments should support these actors by employing enabling policies to facilitate their efforts. Recognizing that some government control is necessary to avoid problems created by large structures that benefit the transformer at the expense of the neighborhood, Tittle argues governments should also make it easier for owners to transform their homes by providing financial and ...
