Fighting With The German Longsword

This lavishly illustrated companion to Longsword examines Ringeck's instruction on fighting with the sword and buckler, fighting in armor with longsword and spear, and wrestling. These disciplines and more are fully explained both by Ringeck's text (offered in the original old German as well as the authors' English translation) and detailed captions for the step-by-step illustrations. The timeless works of Ringeck, who is best known for his interpretations of the teachings of grand master ...

The class covers German Longsword, Messer, some hafted weaponry based off Hans Talhoffer's work plus sword and buckler from MS I.33. I picked this book up about a month ago from Amazon and I was very pleased with it. It provides a good reinforcement for the lessons I am learning in class and its very useful to have a practical guide on hand. The descriptions are clear and straightforward and the photos are very useful. Being a software developer by trade I got a kick out of the flowcharts ...

Fighting with the German Longsword by Christian Tobler offers modern interpretations and step by step advice. It covers topics hardly discussed in the original sources, like footwork or how to grip the sword. It even provides training drills.

Historical European Martial Arts Beginner Sources - HEMA Guide

Christian Henry Tobler was one of the pioneers in reviving the medieval Master's art, creating the first, published guide on the use of the longsword in 2004. This fully rewritten, revised and expanded edition brings to bear a decade of refinement, creating a definitive guide for students. Beginning with a short historical overview of the art, the book describes stance, footwork, methods for gripping the sword, and the core techniques of the Liechtenauer tradition. Additional chapters also ...

Fighting With The German Longsword PDF Recorded over six centuries ago, the teachings of the 14th-century Master-at-Arms Johannes Liechtenauer have been given new life by a world-wide community of modern swordsmen and women, fascinated by the elegance, efficiency and depth of his unique martial art.

Fighting With The German Longsword PDF - Book Library

Codified systems of fighting with the longsword existed from the later 14th century, with a variety of styles and teachers each providing a slightly different take on the art. Hans Talhoffer, a mid-15th-century German fightmaster, is probably the most prominent, using a wide variety of moves, most resulting in wrestling. The longsword was a quick, effective, and versatile weapon capable of deadly thrusts, slices, and cuts.

How to Fight with a Longsword - YouTube

Fencing with the German longsword has been a focus of historical European martial arts reconstruction since the late 19th century, when swordsmen such as Alfred Hutton first popularized the pursuit. The term "the German school of fencing" can be misleading, because there were and are multiple styles of German fencing. For example, both German academic fencing and old German theatrical swordplay are referred to today as being of the "German school of fencing".
